

SUSAN GUZZETTA

PROFESSIONAL SPEAKERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

BOB HAMER AUTHOR AND FORMER FBI SPECIAL AGENT

Bob Hamer retired from the Federal Bureau of Investigation after 26 years as a Special Agent. He worked organized crime, gangs, terrorism, and child exploitation. Much of his career was spent undercover. In assignments lasting anywhere from several days to more than three years, Bob successfully posed as a drug dealer, contract killer, residential burglar, fence, pedophile, degenerate gambler, international weapons dealer, and white-collar criminal.

He worked undercover against such diverse groups as the La Cosa Nostra, the Sicilian, Mexican, and Russian mafias, Asian organized crime groups, and Los Angeles based street gangs. His successful infiltration of NAMBLA (North American Man/Boy Love Association) resulted in the arrest of eight members of what one defendant called the organization's "inner circle."

Bob received numerous awards throughout his career including the coveted FBI Director's Award for Distinguished Service, four United States Attorney Awards for Distinguished Service, and numerous letters of commendation including one from then US Attorney Rudy Giuliani.

Bob is a member of the Writers Guild of America and the Writers Guild of Canada and has written for television. He has worked as the technical advisor for The Inside and Angela's Eyes and has consulted for Law & Order: SVU and Sleeper Cell. He has appeared as a guest on Oprah. His first book, THE LAST UNDERCOVER: The True Story of an FBI Agent's Dangerous Dance with Evil (Hachette Book Group, USA, Center Street Press) won the 2009 San Diego Book Awards Association Best Memoir. His debut novel, ENEMIES AMONG US (B&H Publishing, Fidelis) was published in March, 2010. TARGETS DOWN, the second novel in the Matt Hogan series, releases June 1, 2011.

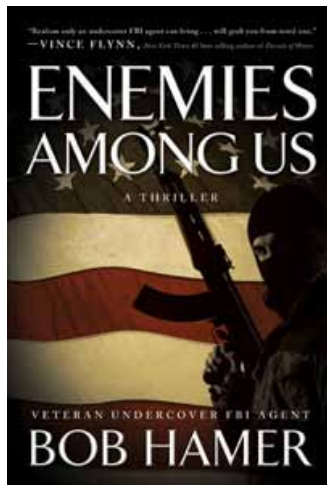

A Marine Corps veteran, Bob is married and has two children.

SUSAN GUZZETTA

PROFESSIONAL SPEAKERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

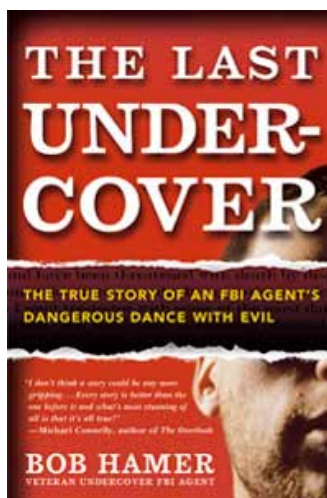

BOB HAMER

BOOKS

Novels about undercover FBI agents nabbing terrorists are more credible when written by former FBI agents. Hamer's nearly three decades as a street agent gives weight to this thriller about erstwhile reckless agent Matt Hogan's redemption with the agency, his wife, and guilt-ridden past. In order to save his job, Hogan must leave his dangerous operations and infiltrate a Christian hospital, which he sees as a red herring to get him off the streets. But as the hospital is suspected of helping terrorists, Hogan has never had a more important assignment. Beyond thriller-speed action, the author includes references to Osama bin Laden, reflections on the difference between guilt and shame societies, and just enough hot married love for Christian fiction. Suspense is often pre-empted by unnecessary spoilers in the middle of the action: Fate was about to confront the team. Otherwise few flaws mar what is a page-turning roller coaster that feels like Jack Bauer's 24 without sailing over the top. Stereotype-bending dialogue and believable characters elicit fear of evil and call forth hope that good exists in all ethnicities and religions.

- From Publishers Weekly

There have been many books concerning FBI undercover agents on perilous assignments, but this one by a veteran FBI agent goes most of them one better with his full-tilt voyages into the darkest fringes of society. After his training and recruitment into the criminal netherworld, Hamer assumed several identities—such as drug dealer and contract killer—to penetrate the closed societies of the Chinese, Russian and Iraqi mobs. However, Hamer's controlled theatrics are most compelling as he infiltrates the security-obsessed North American Man/Boy Love Association disguised as an aging pedophile, to crack the group and their extensive international network. The sneak peek into that dank society of chicken hawks is illuminating in its depiction of child sexual abuse. With his practiced lies and disciplined behavior, Hamer is a peerless undercover agent, although his book sometimes breaks its narrative focus and wanders into several cases at once. Still, this book possesses power and conviction without being pretentious or pious.

- From Publishers Weekly

SUSAN GUZZETTA

PROFESSIONAL SPEAKERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

BOB HAMER

CLIENT LIST

Freedom Alliance
La Jolla Professional Men's Society
Florida Sex Crime Investigators Association
Infragard
FBI Citizen's Academy-San Diego
Various chapters of the Southern California
Republican Women Federated

SUSAN GUZZETTA

PROFESSIONAL SPEAKERS FOR ALL OCCASIONS

BOB HAMER

TESTIMONIALS

"Bob Hamer...is a dynamic, humorous individual and kept the audience spellbound with his experiences as an Undercover FBI Agent. He spoke for an hour and all agreed we could readily have listened for another hour. The fact that all of the anecdotes are true happenings adds to the enjoyment.

Mr. Hamer is brilliant and so dedicated to his nation that he risked his own life innumerable times to apprehend criminals who might endanger our safety. A former Marine, an Attorney, FBI Agent, Spouse, Father, Author, and great American make Bob Hamer a winner. Try to do everything one can to meet this exceptional man and hear his fantastic stories."

Lois Glab

"Mr. Bob Hamer recently spoke at our meeting. After giving a humorous account of his background, he provided a frightening but extremely interesting description of his infiltration of unseemly and dangerous organizations as an undercover FBI agent. His presentation was down to earth, riveting, fascinating and with the perfect balance of levity. It was very well received by all in attendance. He would be an outstanding representative to your organization and he has our highest recommendation."

Pat Vizcarra
Vice President
Intermountain Republican Women's Federation

"What can I say, but wonderful, wonderful, of all the speakers we've had you were the most dynamic and informative and were well appreciated by all our ladies. I think those ladies were enthralled with you..."

Arlene Baker
Palm Springs Women's Club

"Thanks again for speaking with the La Jolla Professional Men's Society last Thursday. You had all of us impressed with your adrenaline rushes, and we much appreciated your "give and take" with the members. As you could tell from the questions, the topic was of great interest. In all honesty, I never had so many members come up to me after the meeting and tell me how much they enjoyed your talk.

We certainly owe a debt to you and others who took such great risks for the safety and well-being of our fellow citizens."

Dick Dean
LJPMS Program Chairman

"Many thanks for your outstanding presentation to my Mystery group at the Benjamin Library last week.

As I said then, I watched them watching you and they were certainly riveted from start to finish to your every word. Not only was your lecture informative, but it was also eye-opening since many of your audience had never heard of NAMBLA nor had they met someone whose whole career as an undercover agent was spent acting in superb performances which would not be rewarded with statuettes, but possibly with bullets and other forms of violence.

We all appreciated your finely tuned sense of humor and the personal details and anecdotes you shared about your family and your remarkable 26-year career with the FBI.

It was our pleasure to have you as our speaker and I hope the experience was equally enjoyable for you. I look forward to reading your novel during spring break."

Judith Levine